Sugar Was the Old-Time Favorite, and Was Made Especially Prominent.

HESITATION IN THE MARKET

Highly Prosperous Condition in the Copper Trade Reflected In Report.

(By Associated Press.)

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 16.—Frequent fluctuations in prices to-day indicated the missettled and hesitating condition of speculative sentiment in the stock market. Sigar was the old-lims favorite, which was made especially prominent with a degree of activity which has not been seen for many months. The parallel movement in American beet sugar was made to give a semblance of important development simpending regarding trade relations, but no authentic information was given out on the subject. There was a similar movement in Amelgamated Copper and the copper group. This was professedly based on the annual report of the Anaconda Mining Company. The highly prosperous conditions in the copper trade were duly reflected in this report, which was also elaborated with financial and operating details beyond precedent. The money outlook was thus subject of earnest consideration in the light of the borrowing by the Pennsylvania Company yesterday of $5,000,000 for eighteen months on a basis of rather more than 5 per cent. Funds in the time loan market were reported abundant and not readily lendable at 4% per cent, for periods up to six months. For that maturity there were some loans at 5 per cent, and for over the end of the year's periods 5 per cent, was reported atronsity bid, with 5% asked. The influence of the Anaconda annual report was supplemented to some extent by intimations of a forthcoming statement that the Standard Oll Company from which a favorable effect on speculative sentiment was augured. The transfer through the subfreesury of over $500,000 to San Francisco was attributed to a special traction, and not to any resumption of the previous movement to that point growing out of the fire losses. The market continued to show some irregularity throughout the day, but last prices were about the best, and the closing tone was firm.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, 23,416,000. United 1States bonds were unchanged on call.

Total sales of stocks to-day were $55,600 shares. NEW YORK, May 16.-Frequent fluc-

COTTON MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 16.—The cotton market was a little more active than yesterday with the bulle more agreesive and prices closing at not gain of 7671 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 250,000 bales.

The opening was steady at an advance of 1678 points in response to higher cables and the big spot sales in the English market which were reported at 15,000 bales; following the sales of 14,000 bales on the two previous day of the week, Right after the call a prominent broker bid 11.45 for 50,000 bales of May, getting only 100 bales at that figure, and private wires the week. Right after the call a prominent proker bid 11.85 for 50,600 bales of May, getting only 100 bales at that figure, and private wires said that a larke New Orieans operator was bidding for 50,000 bales in that market. This was followed by some irregularity, owing to realizing, promoted by the favorable showing of the early weather map, but bull support contined in avidence and the market gradually advanced during the middle session with the high prices reached in the late trading, when high prices reached in the late trading, when the sentiment was influency rates in the winter bid of the sentiment was influency rates in the winter and predictions of an overflow in the Red Tilver Valley. The close was steady with prices within a point or two of the top. The weather map showed only light showers with seasonable temperatures, but private reports claimed quite heavy rains in Texas, which were given a built-in interpretation. Private cables from Liverpool reported a big trade demand, and spot sales of ,130 bales were reported out of the local slock. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged, and receipts continued on about 11,60 last week and 13,31 last year. For the week (estimated) 75,000 bales against 11,60 last week and 139,31 last year. To the veck (estimated) 75,000 bales against 2,015 last year. Cotton futures very stendy. Prices ranged Vegetables and other country produce are coming in very freely, and the Cary Street wholesale dealers are having busy times. The demand continues active and well upon the heels of the supply. As a result, the looked for drop in prices has not materialized. The market was very firm yesterday, and with active business, prices kept to high water mark.

Leaf Tobacco Market.

Three of the warehouses.—Shockoe, Shelburne's and Stonewall—had breaks yesterday, and about 50,000 pounds of good sun-cured tobacco was sold. Several piles went beyond the thirty-dollar mark, and numbers sold above $20.

The breaks to-day will probably be no larger than those of yesterday.

COTTON.

NEW YORK. May 18.—American middlings is to-day quoted in Liverpool at 6.21 pence. This, allowing for tare, is the equivalent of over thirteen cents in American money. In the face of such conditions, the felly of selling a crop as yet, hardly planted, on a basis of 16.3-1 cents for next October delivery must be apparent. In my opinion, the world requires, and will take all that is left of this years crop and all that may be produced next year at prices much higher than those now current. Nearly all that is left this years crop and all that may be produced next year at prices much higher than those now current. Nearly all the staple requirements of clyflized life, such as iron, the copper, bricks, lumbor and clothing, not to mention a host of less important articles are selling at nearly double the price they brought five years ago. There, is in my opinion, no reason why cotton should be an exception.
